JAMES A. LONG,

Clerk of Engineers.

REPORT OF SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Newmarket :

The beginning of the present school year found an unusually large number of changes in the teaching staff of the public schools. Five teachers resigned, three to accept teaching positions in larger towns and two on account of approaching marriage. The new teachers are Miss Jeanne L. Adams, an experienced teacher and graduate of Plymouth Normal School, Mr. Chester F. Kingsman, graduate of the Junior High curriculum of Keene Normal School, Miss Elsie L. McConnell, graduate of the Home Economics curriculum of Keene Normal School, Miss Florence M. Giddings, graduate of the Commercial curriculum of Salem (Massachusetts) Teachers' College, and Miss Esther Norris, graduate of the University of New Hampshire. The three last named hold degrees granted for the completion of four-year courses.

The present enrollment is as follows :

Miss Eleanor Evans, Grade I	28
Miss Jeanne Adams, Grade II	24
Miss Jennie Young, Grade III	21
Miss Frances Durell, Grade IV	39
Miss Irene Doherty, Grade V	37
Miss Mattie Locke, Grade VI	27
Junior High School, Grade VII and VIII	66
Senior High School, Grades IX to XII	149

Mr. James A. Boyd, Headmaster.	Total 391
--------------------------------	-----------------

This year again, the High School shows a considerable increase in enrollment. In his annual report for this year, President James Bryant Conant of Harvard University traces this growth for the country at large. He points out that in 1898 only about 10% of the boys and girls between the ages of fourteen and seventeen were in high school. In 1936 the proportion was 65%. In other words, the number of high school pupils increased from 630,000 to 6,300,000, or tenfold. President Conant goes on to say, "Instead of being concerned largely with boys and girls whose interests and abilities were such as to give them high aptitude for 'book learning' the schools now include every kind and level of ability; the student body comprises youths with the widest possible range of ambitions. The schools must accommodate pupils the majority of whom would not profit from the type of education which was standard two generations ago. As a consequence of this transformation of the student body, many modifications of the old curriculum have come to stay. Still more drastic changes are just over the horizon."

With the increasing high school enrollment, the attendance has been well kept up. The per-cent of attendance has been over 97 in the Senior High School for over ten years and in the Junior High School for over fifteen years, the longest record in the state, excepting one boarding school. The tardiness record has been less than one-half of one per-cent in the Senior High School for the last four consecutive years, and in the Junior High for five years.

The recent growth of Newmarket High School is summarized in the following statistics of average membership:

Grades IX to XII, 1923	51.37
Grades IX to XII, 1928	75.94
Grades IX to XII, 1933	119.32
Grades IX to XII, 1938	121.19

Present membership 149 or about three times that of fifteen years ago. In order to benefit this large proportion of young people attending high school, the commercial and home economics curricula have been added to the regular academic studies. Even so, the "cost of instruction" in Newmarket High School is the third lowest in the state.

To publish the detailed work of each course as contained in the High School Annual Work Report to the State Department would require much more space than is here available. However, it may be of interest to list merely the headings of some of the features conducted by pupils outside of the classroom under the guidance of teachers. The "fundamentals" are drilled in special classes in geography, spelling, etc., while subjects such as physiology and hygiene, drawing, character, alcohol and narcotics, and automobile regulations are given as extras. The regular work of the school was exhibited during Education Week. Other activities closely connected with scholarship are the following: Dramatics, including the Senior Play and participation in the state one-act play contest; Debating, in which five contests were held; Scholarship Day, in connection with which the French team won second place in the state; Prize Speaking; Hobby and Current Events clubs; exercises of the weekly General Assembly; school paper, the "Newmarkette"; School Bank. Student responsibility is trained in the Student Council and Traffic Patrol. Special days include "Trial Day," when the schedule for the following year is tried out, and "Visitors' Day," when the incoming class of the following year is invited to become acquainted with the school. The National Youth Administration enables pupils to help themselves and perform work needed in the school. The success of our athletic program is indicated by the fact that last year 60% of the boys and a good proportion of the girls went out for sports regularly. Newmarket was one of the three High Schools in New Hampshire to have both its Basketball team invited to the tournament at Durham and its Baseball team included in the tournament at Nashua. It is a well-founded belief that participation in such activities as the above plays a by no means inferior part in training young people for citizenship and success in later life, as well as promoting a happy and normal youth.

During the year, the School Board accepted from Mrs. Charles O. Caswell of Portland, Maine, the gift of two compound microscopes, a large dictionary and stand, an assortment of microscopic slides, and some athletic apparatus. These will be exceedingly useful.

Considerable space has been given in this report to the high school. In a subsequent report, corresponding emphasis will be placed upon features of work in the elementary grades.

The annual report of the School Nurse, Miss Margaret MacDonald, shows a total of 567 different pupils examined, with 447 more or less serious conditions listed. Of these, 155 were definitely corrected during the year through the cooperation of parents and their own physicians or clinics. The Dental Clinic has become one of the major features of the school health work. The nurse's reports for the three preceding years show that the following local organizations have given substantial help to this project: American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Grange, Parent-Teacher Association, Red Cross, Woman's Relief Corps, Women's Club and its departments. For all organizations and individuals that have helped in this good work, the reward is to know that the children have been spared much pain and ill health as a result of the attention given. No serious epidemics in the schools appeared last year. There was a good response to the appeal to parents to attend to the vaccination of their children before the opening of school in the fall.

Respectfully submitted,
CHESTER W. DOE,
Superintendent of Schools.
